

(Don't Write anything in this Area)

Section B

Q.5) Answer the following in about 150 words each:

10x5=50

5.a) Psychology and Anthropology

Anthropology as a social science borrows from and deeply impacts Psychology

Anthropology influencing Psychology

① Psychic Unity of Mankind' Theory

(Bachofen, L.H Morgan) → to imply human thought process everywhere is same

② Culture Personality School

↳ R. Benedict's Culture Personality Theory and 'patternedness' of culture

↳ Model Personality (Cora DuBois)

↳ National Character Studies (Benedict R. Geer)

③ Symbolic Anthropology & Cognitive Anthropology - structure of mind & thought process

Psychology on Anthropology

- ① Sigmund Freud's Psychodynamic theory of incest taboo
- ② Freud's impact on Malinowski's work and C.L. Stross's interpretation of Totemism (Binary opposition)
- ③ Theory of Oedipus Complex and Family Disintegration
- ④ Tools used by Corrado Bo's (e.g.) mind maps etc. to arrive at Model personality
- ⑤ Imprint on Linguistic Anthropology by German Psychologists

Yet Anthropology as a holistic science differs from Psychology because of area of concern (society vs individual) methods (cross cultural study vs individual examination), theorizing (universal laws formulation) using principles such as emic and etic and holism in approach