Herbert spencer coined the term 'survival of the fittest' after reading the Darwin's 'On the origin of species'.

According to Darwin, it is not the most intelligent and strong who will survive but one who adapts to the environment.

So principles of Biology (1964)

'Survival of fittest' ~~is~~ is used in context that most fit species will ~~only~~ survive ~~the~~ through natural selection.

Foreg: During paleocene, Mammals survived the cold temperatures but many great reptiles (~~the~~ cold blooded ~~are~~ mammals) died in the process.
