

Q.6b (15 marks): Compare the fossil remains of Progressive and Classic Neanderthal men and examine their phylogenetic position in human evolution

L2A™

Do not write anything in this margin

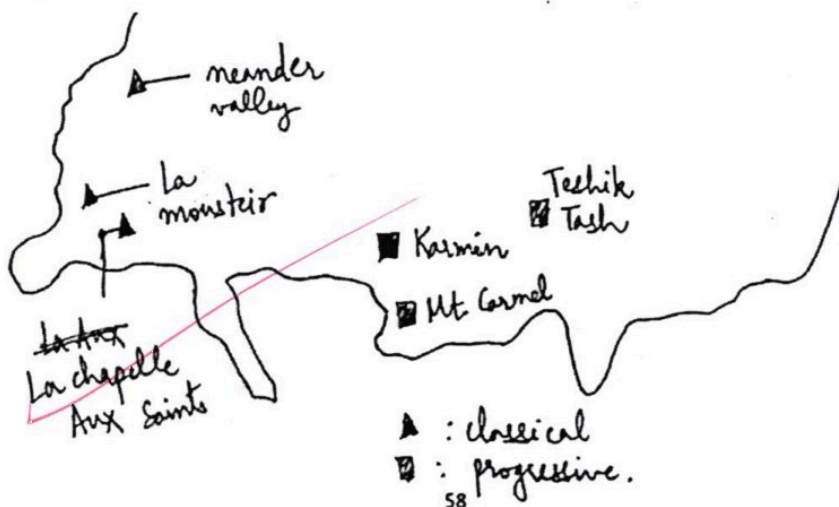

(b) Compare the fossil remains of 'Progressive' and 'Classic' Neanderthal men and examine their phylogenetic position in human evolution

Homo neanderthalensis is an extinct species of genus Homo.

Sub species La-chapelle Aux saints (classical)
Mt. Carmel (progressive)

Discovery (i) In 1908, three priests found a skull at Corsese (France)
(ii) In 1931-33, a skull was found at Mt. Carmel (Israel)

Geographic distribution

L2A™

Do not write anything in this margin

Similarities

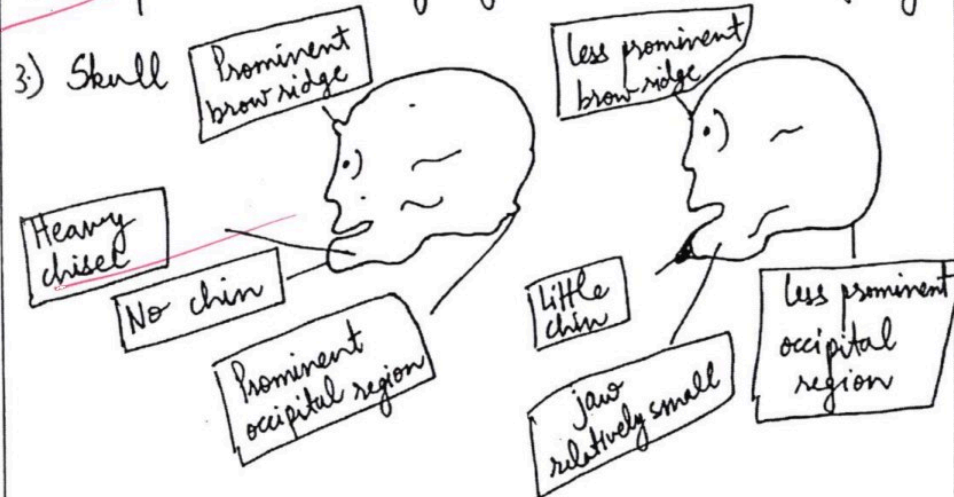

- 1) Bipedalism
- 2) Erect posture
- 3) ~~Tourondontism~~ & dental formula (2123)
- 4) ~~Parabolic~~ dental arcade.

Differences

Classical

Progressive

- 1) C C 1600 cc 1700 cc
- 2) Timespan 60,000 yrs ago 100,000 yrs ago

- 4) Pelvis muscular less muscular.

59

add evolutionary significance of these variants too

Phylogenetic status

L2A™

Do not write anything in this margin

Fig: Phylogenetic chart of human evolution.

According to Neanderthal genome Project, there is 2.1- genetic blue print of neanderthals in humans.

Many anthropologists like Hooton have argued that neanderthals ~~were~~ are extinct cousins of Homo sapiens.

8