

L2A™

Do not write
anything in this margin

Apes have flat foot, and it is used in knuckle walking.

Hence, both have significant anatomical differences, ~~some~~ natural selection worked in favour of humans with increased cranial capacity and habitual bipedalism.

12

add any evolutionary significant points too