

Relevance of menarche & menopause

1) Biological: The period between menarche & menopause ~~is time~~ is fecundity or ability of women to bear child.

Question is about relevance of Menarche and Menopause to FERTILITY

You need to focus on How they affect FERTILITY

2) Evolutionary: Menopause of women has evolutionary significance. It provided enough time for women to take care of her children.

3) Cultural: menarche is characterized by the advent of fertile phase of a girl. Celebrated in south India through a ceremony called 'ritukala samakara'

You need to mention studies on

Early age of menarche and its impact on fertility

4) Demographic: Both result in increase in population of a country.

Example: May result in High fertility rates

5) Political: It provides space for government to ~~na~~ devise family planning programmes, eg. One child policy of China

Late age of Menarche

Result in disorders and Miscarriage

Menopause

Mention about studies on Reversal of Menopause and impact on fertility Egg freezing techniques adopted by big corporates

Impact on fertility due to use of contraceptives menarche age is decreasing menopause age increasing.

Recent changes

increased awareness about menstrual hygiene

#Yes I Bleed campaign.

Various government schemes like SUMAN

L2ATM

Do not write anything in this margin

However due to changing lifestyles smoking, substance abuse, imbalanced diet, both menarche & menopause are affected.

Also mention other bio events

1. Adolescent sterility
2. Postpartum sterility
3. Hormonal imbalances
4. Genetic disorders

76

Scanned with CamScanner