

(Don't Write anything in this Area)

(d) Enculturation and Transculturation.

(10 Marks)

"Enculturation" is the process of learning of one's own culture from his/her social setting.

In the process of enculturation;

- Degree of likeness matter's
- Relevance of cultural artifacts & menifacts to the individual are necessary.

"Enculturation" processes are generally smoother in nature since childhood familiarity with closed one ensure's greater cultural transmission.

Transculturation:- is the process of introduction of new culture into

add more details
entry of new born
attacks of savage
mind
taught and nurtured
by society
mind of blank
slate
cultured
through enculturation

A society which may or may not be accepted.

e.g. British (Christian) culture was resisted by the Santhal & Munda tribes of Chotanagpur; thereby resulting in clashes between the two.

mentions Ferdinand
albin
who introduced the concept

Enculturation is a natural process with minimum efforts where as Transculturation is an artificial process which might be resisted by the target group.

not necessary
long years
of socialisation

In today's contemporary world; cultural holism & relativism needs to be adhered for greater cultural synthesis.

very conclusion

(3.5)

write
exact points
given by anthropologist
stages of process
etc.