

(d) Social Groups and Institutions .

(10 Marks)

There are multiple ways by which members of a society [societas - belonging to an in-group] can come together and perform a certain tasks.

① SOCIAL GROUP

→ Melver defined it as a 'system of units and procedures characteristic of group activity' (Society: An introductory analysis - 1950)

→ people with similar goals come together into an association

eg ① PRIMARY → family, friends (personal, group interest supreme; emotional)

② secondary → non personal, formal
(eg - coworkers)

→ cooley called social groups 'nucleus of society' while Melver called them 'greatest association of mankind'

② SOCIAL INSTITUTIONS → set of folkways

and more consisting of

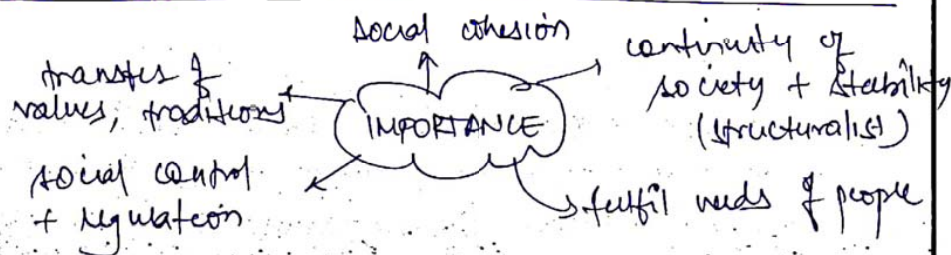

eg PRIMARY

State/government Religion family economy

Secondary

Parliament
church, temple

RELEVANCE Many traditional primary groups are becoming less prominent than secondary groups (coworkers, clients) due to rising materialism. Also, many institutions are also undergoing change (eg - online education in courses, live streaming of Aarti, Prasad home delivery)
