Distinguish between Pluralism and Multiculturalism (10 Marks)

Pluralism and Multiculturalism are concepts of inter group relations in a society having several ethnicity, language and cultures.

Similarities

- ① Both are inter group studies.
- ② Both form part of contemporary studies in socio-cultural anthropology.

Differences

① Status of groups

↳ Pluralism does not define relative status and simply means existence of multiple aspects.

↳ Multiculturalism define (may define) inter group as relative status.

② Inter group Interaction

- ↳ Pluralism does not mean one group interact with another.
- ↳ Multiculturalism means groups do interact.

③ Tolerance

- ↳ Pluralism signifies tolerance for all groups
- ↳ Multiculturalism involves tolerance and appreciation.

Example: BBC report says Indian society is like a Thali of food in which all aspects are separate, yet they intermix in a specific compositions.

- ↳ India, being a diverse country is lying somewhere between Pluralism and Multiculturalism with constant efforts to become Multicultural.
