

Social institutions as per Radcliffe Brown are the norms or sanctions of procedure to be followed in an organisation.

① Family - as a social institution → controls marriage, kin relations, etc.

Adaptive in nature

Social institutions change as per the situations and circumstances in which they operate.

① Family → Talcott Parson argued nuclear family are adapted to the changing economic scenario. As it requires more mobility and nuclear families are fit for it.

① As marriage aspects changed from traditional to live-in, companionate marriage, same sex marriage → social institution (family) has adapted.

(for ex.) Supreme court in Indra Sawhney case recognised live-in relation

② Religion → Morin Harris in cultural materialism concept argued that was sacred to Hindus

↳ but allowed to consume and kill during vagary → show change in religion as per adaptation to disaster.

③ Economic institutions gets adopted as per changing scenario.

④ Santhals

Earlier → Hunters

↓
Later → Slash-Burn cultivation

Now → Rice cultivation on land

④ Educational institutions → adaption after COVID-19.

Earlier - Pathshala - Guru-shishya
later - schools - Teacher-student
Now - Hybrid { Online + Offline

⑤ State institutions - change from stateless society to state society and now again state rolling back, we talk of community participation and self-governance.

Social institutions thus go adaptive change as per social-cultural changes. But their underlying functions remain same.
