(a) Cultural shock

(10 Marks)

Culture as per ~~E.B.~~ Herskovist's is the man-made part of the environment. i.e. "the social environment".

Cultural shock refers to any "intoward event" within a cultural setting which disrupts the cultural structure of a society.

Such a cultural shock can result in disintegration of society if measures are not taken to pacify the cultural change.

e.g; large scale displacements of tribals from their ecological setting can result in disturbance of L.P. Vidyarthi's (NMS-complex); thereby disintegrating the cultural relations of the tribal society.

Relevance :- Can be used by anthropologists to study the effect of any outside interaction with the tribals so as to safeguard their cultural fabric; thereby ensuring peaceful coexistence of new cultural elements in traditional cultural settings of tribal society.
