Kinship terminology refers to the terms used to denote an individual's position within a kin group. These were first studied by L.H. Morgan.

Determinants of kinship terminology

Different societies put different emphasis on different determinants

~~① Sex of the~~ Kin term involve $\begin{cases} \text{One who is referred by term} \\ \text{One who uses the term.} \end{cases}$

Determinants

① Sex of the one signified:

$\rightarrow$ uncle $\rightarrow$ male in European society
Aunt $\rightarrow$ female in European society

② Age of the one signified : determines terminology especially in age grade based societies

eg Marai of Masaimara

③ Generational difference determines kin. term eg "Grand" used to denote a greater generational difference.

④ Status in social hierarchy : has role to play

⑤ Affinal or consanguineous kin status

Relevance

① Understand kinship patterns of interaction in a society.

② Enable holistic study of society

③ Crucial to understand for participant observation

Thus, it is important for an anthropologist to understand patterns of kinship in a society
