

(Don't Write anything in this Area)

(d) Kinship and power.

(10 Marks)

Kinship as per Abercrombie is the social relationships based on blood ties (real or supposed) and through marriage; ~~are~~ ^{are} collectively known as kinship.

Power is the ability to command obedience in the society.

Kinship is essential in resolution of disputes with the society. To resolve the dispute the leader must possess power to command obedience.

for Instance → Dr. Evans Pritchard has described the dispute resolution process in Nuer tribe of Africa.

In a dispute between ~~the~~ ^{members} of two different lineage; it is decided by the Leopard skin Chief who belongs to a neutral lineage.

He holds a higher status as well as ~~so~~ more power in the kinship group.

besides defining you can bring link b/w the two in the intro in the kinship - How kinship related to power??

power is the capacity to take independent action in the face of resistance from persons, group & tribes.

write about - power - Kinship dynamics in ① Head-Headless societies
② Territory based political systems

write about Types of power

(Don't Write anything in this Area)

Similarly, decision making power lies with person holding power in the kinship group

(for example) → In the ~~tribe~~ traditional kinship system, the eldest male possesses the decision making power.

Try to give more examples using various societies

② ~~Kinship is related~~

Hence, power is intricately related to the kinship system. It maintains peace and prosperity in the group.

Marks: 4/4

Comment:

Intro: 1

Body: 3

Conclusion: 4/4

Total:

✓ improve content