According to Abercrombie, kinship can be defined as the social relations derived from the blood ties (real or supposed) and from marriage; are collectively known as kinship.

It was the pioneering work of Dr. L.H. Morgan in his book "System of consanguinity and affinity in primitive societies", which drew attention towards kinship terminology.

Kin terms can be defined as those terms which are used to allocate individuals their positions in the society.

The entire collection of kin-terms is called as kinship terminology (KT).

Dr. AL Kroeber & Lowie have give Nine determinants of kinship terminology :-

① Criterion of Generation → i.e. which generation does the individual belong to.

Eg. Father & Son have different KT due to different generation.

② Criteria of Affinity → i.e. on the basis of Marriage ties.
Eg → "In-laws" will have different KT.

③ Criteria of Collaterality → i.e. when two persons are of same generation & same sex, KT is determined by the closeness with Ego.

Eg. Father & Uncle (Father's Brother)

④ Criteria of Decadence → After the death of individual, he is assigned a different KT.

⑤ Criteria of Polarity → relations occur in pair. KT is ~~answ~~ according to the relation between the pair. Eg. Aunt - Niece

⑥ Criteria of bifurcation →

i.e. KT according to the relation via father or Mother.

Eg. 'Dada - Dadi' via father
Nana - Nani via Mother.

⑦ Criteria of Relative's Age → Eg. Elder brother 'Anna' in Telugu & 'Thammudu' for younger brother.

⑧ Criteria of Sex of Ego → Male & female refer to their kins by different terms
Eg. found in Japanese society.

⑨ Criteria of Sex of the kin → KT is according to the sex of relative.
Eg. Father & Mother.

Based on these determinants, Dr Murdock has given 6 fold classification of KT.
Hawaiian, Eskimo, Sudanese, Iroquois, Omaha & Crow.
