Feminist and women liberation movement emerged in 1980s to voice for the cause of women and bring them in equality to men.

Marriage and family are the social institutions which functions to fulfill certain needs like sexual reproduction, socialisation, economic cooperation, education etc.

Impact of feminist movements

① Employment opportunities increased for women. Veena Das says working women has more say in family.

② Rise of nuclear family, single parent family, DINKS syndrome (double income no kids syndrome)

③ Marriage as an institution is in decline
→ live-in relationship
→ companionship family

④ Small family - because women not bearing child → Firstone in "The dictator of sex" said biological determinism subordinates women.

⑤ Ego-clashes between male-female and with elder generation.
