1.d) Problems of Pastoralists in India

Pastoralism is a means of subsistence living wherein the primary mode of production is cattle/milch, distribution (exchange), and consumption is primarily dairy products.

Features

① Primarily tribal but also includes OBC's [Kamma Reddis in Andhra, Burubas in Karnataka]

② Religious inclination: spirit (ancestor worship)

③ Kinship ties → strong

④ Politically → weak because no permanent habitation

Problems

① Government Apathy: Colonially some considered criminals (habitual offenders) for breaking forest laws

- ① Lack of pastoral grounds
- ② Gaddis → transhumance grounds being lost
- ③ Ladakh - Chinese incursions into
Pashmire rearing regions
- ④ Recognition of rights under FRA.
Lack of → cannot infringe on protected areas
- ⑤ Socio cultural backwardness →
Xaxa Committee says poverty has increased over 50 years.
- ⑥ Political capital lacking → voting rights are not granted due to frequent migration

Recommendations

① Comprehensive survey to identify issues

② A separate commission to deal with them (Renke committee reads)

Within the ambit of nature-man spirit complex, sustainable pastoralists must be given rights under FRA
