

5.e) Total Institution

~~Erwin Goffman's~~

Social Institution is the machinery to direct, organise and execute functions to fulfill individual needs

The concept of total institution was given by Erwin Goffman to describe those institutions that holistically offer a range of functions addressing many needs of society.

For example -

Kinship is social institution that regulates marriage, family, social statuses and roles, economic organisations and, political systems as well as religious activities too

This can be your perfect intro

1.5