5.d) Distinguish between method, technique, and methodology

Method means the kind of research analysis is taken by the anthropologist.

It includes the methods like fieldwork, participant observation, arm chair anthropology, etc.

↳ It is subjective to the researcher

↳ It is giving the intention of the researcher.

Technique

It refers to the tools that are being used by the researcher in the research analysis.

It includes the technique like-audio, visual, use of AI,
application and software.

↳ It gives the proof and credibility
to the Research.

Methodology

It refers to the Method and the explanation by the researcher, why he/she had chosen the particular Method.

↳ It gives the validity and more authenticity to the Research

(Eg) Cora Du Bois used the audio-visual technique with the concept for Modal personality.

Thus, these terms Methods, techniques and Methodology have diverse perspective.
