

L2A™
10

(e) Discuss the significance of secondary sources of information in Anthropology

Do not write anything in this margin

Secondary sources of information refers to the data already ~~to~~ used by other anthropologists, which is present in form of publications.

Significance

1) Leads to effective data collection which anthropologists formulate opinions and theories.

For eg: used by EB Tylor to publish and form ~~and~~ cultural theory of evolution

L2ATM

Do not write anything in this margin

- 2) Easy to collect data and saves time as well as resources.
- 3) Help in increasing awareness regarding various tribal communities.
- 4) Supports the hypothesis of anthropologists

Demerits

- may not capture the true detail of communities
- cannot capture the ~~in~~ personal opinions
- does not include reactions of various groups.

However despite this, secondary source of information in anthropology has highly contributed to effective ethnographic data collection.